

The Old Forge pottery workshop

The Old Forge pottery workshop is a shared workspace for potters from Eynsham and nearby. Our aim is to create a pleasant space for throwing, handbuilding, glazing and firing. We will all benefit from sharing the space, because we will learn from and encourage each other, and share the overheads and equipment.

We are not professional potters, nor qualified teachers – but we are keen in the longer term to open the Old Forge more widely, so that Eynsham people can experiment with clay and learn to make pots. But to do that we need to work out all the details of sharing and then find a teacher. So that will not be for several months at least.

None of us make a living from pottery, and we are all new to selling our work. But we're keen to sell what we make and we may be able to take commissions. If you see someone in the workshop, feel free to knock on the door and if you see something in the window that you like, use the contact details in the window to get in touch with any of us directly. We will also have occasional exhibitions and open days – which will be advertised on the Eynsham Websites and the usual village noticeboards.

We hope the Old Forge pottery workshop will be welcomed by the people of Eynsham as a positive addition to the village.
